

LET'S GO! REPORT

Deliverable 3.2 31 May 2025

Location: Serres, Greece - València-Spain

Project Number: 101134658

Introduction

Professional women's sports is a rising value that we have to work on from the grassroots level. With that in mind, we proposed this visit, something that very few families do on their own.

The objective of this activity was to bring professional women's basketball closer to our children and their families. Both Panserraikos and Benetússer have more than fulfilled this objective by bringing around 200 people to first division pavilions in competitive games.

Outcomes and Future Actions

1. Outcomes:

Both events were very well received by our membership. Our children had the opportunity to watch top level women's basketball games, enjoy the sport of high level competition and talk with players and technical staff in a friendly and close atmosphere.

These are the approaches that children will remember for a long time, being on the court of a first division team, talking to international players, seeing how many people support their sport, also in its female side.

2. Local Action Plans:

We have attended two games in the two years that the project has lasted, we hope to continue attending in subsequent years as the experience is very positive.

Additionally, Panserraikos STIHL participated in educational events such as the School Sports Day, where players visited Lefkonas Gymnasium. They interacted with students, played basketball together, and shared gifts from the club, further promoting women's basketball among youth.

3. Strengthening Collaboration:

The clubs visited (Paok and Valencia Bàsquet) have had a good predisposition. In fact, Valencia Bàsquet will participate in the final event to close the project with a junior women's team.

Thanks to this project we have strengthened ties with the two most important teams in our area.

4. Community Engagement:

In addition to the children, many family members bought their tickets and attended the game with us, thus increasing the interest in women's basketball and the relationship between all the clubs involved. It was also a day of fun and coexistence for both Panserraikos and Benetússer, away from the competition itself and the formality of weekly training.

We can see in the trips made by CB Benetússer how the number of children attending the Valencia Bàsquet games has grown from the first year to the second. This is due to the good experience we had in the first visit and the call effect could cause.

These matches not only allowed children to watch high-level women's basketball live, but also to connect personally with athletes and the game environment. Both events significantly boosted the visibility of women's sports among young players and their families.

The presence of a national team figure, the excitement of the raffle, and the organized fan participation created lasting memories and encouraged more engagement with women's basketball
